

VAUGHN TO TALK ON BOYS' WELFARE

President of Schenectady Rotary Club to Tell Conference Here of Work in His City—The Two Days' Program.

The out of town speaker at the first session of the Boys' Welfare Work Conference to be held Tuesday evening, November 30th and Wednesday morning, December 1st, at the high school auditorium, on the invitation of the Chamber of Commerce and the Rotary Club will be Frank Vaughn, president of the Schenectady Rotary Club and an officer of the General Company.

Mr. Vaughn's talk will be given on Tuesday evening and will start the conference with a presentation of what Schenectady is doing for the welfare of its boys.

He will deal with the work of the Schenectady Rotary Club which has made a record of boys' welfare work that stands out among the activities of Rotary Clubs in this district. He will also have much of interest to tell of other work which is being done in Schenectady and of the coordination and cooperation among the various public and private agencies that have to do with the welfare of the boys.

Mr. Vaughn will be introduced by Chairman Frank Seeley of the joint committee of the Chamber of Commerce and Rotary Club. Dr. Seeley will outline the increasing interest in boys' welfare in the city of Kingston, the reasons that have led the Chamber of Commerce and Rotary Club to call this conference and the specific problems to be taken up.

Following Mr. Vaughn's talk the extensive work of the conference will begin. The topics discussed on Tuesday evening will be family influence and family welfare problems among the boys, and personnel work.

On Wednesday evening the conference will consider the big brother idea, industrial education, work of churches and fraternal organizations, and the coordination of organized activity.

Wednesday evening's session will close with the discussion and making of resolutions and recommendations. Each topic will be introduced by local speakers and will also be discussed from the floor so that the conference may secure a full and complete expression of the thought of Kingston for Kingston boys.

The program has been prepared so as to make it comprehensive and broad in scope without attempting to cover too many topics. It is so balanced as to give full weight to civic problems, to questions of morale and to industrial education and industrial work.

In addition to the delegates representing the various organizations and the members of the Chamber of Commerce and Rotary Club, the general public is invited and urged to attend. The sessions will be held in the auditorium of the Kingston High School.

VINCE COFFEY DEFEATS LYONS

Vince Coffey, the local welterweight, had no trouble in defeating Tony Lyons of New York in the semi-final bout at the Argonne Club in Poughkeepsie Wednesday night. Edward Cashin of this city was the referee of the bout, and won approval of the fans by his work.

The Poughkeepsie Eagle News states that Coffey was awarded the judges' decision. That paper's report of the fight was as follows:

The semi-final bout was not exactly a slow affair, for with Coffey and Lyons, of the U. S. Navy in the same ring, things were bound to happen, and they did. Though their weights were announced as 135 and 144, the fighters looked to be much heavier.

Lyons started with several promising jabs to Coffey's head. The latter was content to box and see what his opponent had. They took mixed swings in the second frame, in a vain attempt to land a lucky blow. Coffey forced matters slightly, but he sank no solid punches. Coffey began to prove his authority in the third round, by blocking two of Lyons' upper cuts, and getting in a few unexpected ones himself. He kept at it in the fourth, punishing Lyons with wicked jabs and hooks from his left.

In the fifth frame, Coffey displayed his superiority by landing lefts all over Lyons and when the latter tried to return the compliments, Coffey blocked them. Lyons staged a comeback in the sixth round, when he landed a hard pressed, he suddenly took matters into his own hands and jolted Coffey violently. He kept it up in the seventh, and in the eighth, but Coffey was a defensive fighter and kept his head. He began to show signs of being tired in the last, and when the bell sounded, he was chased out of a knockout.

Last Round.

The young people of the Immortal George Conventions parish will enjoy their last dance before Christmas in their school hall, Delaware avenue, on Saturday evening, November 27. Allen's orchestra will furnish music.

LEAGUE REDUCES PRICE OF MILK

December Product To Sell For 47 Cents A Hundred Less Than Now—Manufacturers Who Are Fighting League Not Expected to Buy—Big Companies To Pass Low Price On To Consumer.

The Dairymen's League Directors have voted to sell December milk for $3.18. This is for milk testing 3 percent butter fat at the 200-210 milo zone with the usual differentials for freight and butter fat.

Although for fifteen years, it has been the custom, because of increasing costs of producing December milk to sell this year's December price will be 47 cents a hundred or one cent a quart cheaper than the November price. The directors found that the majority of sentiment among members of the organization was for lower prices and that such lowered price should be passed on to the consumer. This is in line with what is taking place in the prices of all other products and commodities, and it is thought it will tend to increase the consumption of milk at a time when there is a surplus in league territory due to the fact that much of the milk which formerly went to manufacturers is not now being sold.

Borden's Farm Products Company have announced that they would pass the full reduction on to the consumer. It is expected that other distributors will do the same.

Even at this reduced price, the manufacturing dealers who have refused to buy milk since October 1st, will probably not buy milk of the Dairymen's League during December. As proof of the fact that these companies are not so much interested in not buying milk as they are in trying to break the farmers' organization, they are now, particularly the Nestle's Food Company, offering to buy milk of farmers in many sections at full league prices, providing the farmer will deal with them as an individual and not through his organization.

"The Greek people are not unanimous in wishing the return of the former king and I do not believe he could return," said Mr. Venizelos. "As for myself, I shall rest and watch future events."

Mr. Venizelos intimated that some other representative of royalty, other than Constantine, might be acceptable to the non-monarchist population of Greece and the powers.

IRISH WOMEN FOUGHT HARDEST

In Assault on New York Club Flying British Flag—Flag Flies Yet, With Others, in Honor of Pilgrim Tercentenary.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

New York, Nov. 26.—The British Union Jack, along with the French tri-color and the Stars and Stripes, flew defiantly from the upper windows of the Union Club on Fifth avenue today, following the smashing of the club's windows yesterday by 5,000 rioting Irishmen. The exclusive club was besieged by the Irish, enraged at the sight of the British flag, following a memorial service at St. Patrick's Cathedral, in honor of Terence Mac Swiney, the lord mayor of Cork who died hunger striking for Ireland.

Order was not restored until 300 policemen had been hurried to the scene. Three of the rioters were arrested. Club officials explained they were ignorant of the Mac Swiney memorial services and that the British flag was flown in honor of the tercentenary of the landing of the Pilgrims. The club is opposite the cathedral.

Monsieur Michael J. Lavelle, flanked by two priests, appeared on the cathedral steps and begged the rioters "for the love of Ireland, go home!" But the answer was another volley of stones, sticks, canes and cheap watches hurled at the building.

While the Irish sympathizers numbered 5,000, only a few hundred men and women, representing a Cork organization, actually threw missiles, broke windows and attempted to fight their way into the club. The women were said to have fought hardest of all.

Ten policemen were on guard at the club all night, but there was no further disorder.

NO MARTIAL LAW FOR ERIN YET

London, Nov. 26.—Although violence in all its forms still stalks through Ireland, the British government has decided not to impose martial law at this time. The advisability of imposing martial law through Ireland has been under consideration by the cabinet for some time, it was learned today. The premier stated, however, that it was "inadvisable" to attempt to enforce martial law at present.

News of additional disorders were received through the day. One man was shot while attempting to escape from black and tan soldiers in Galway.

A serious clash between civilians and police occurred at Millstreet, County Cork. Houses were burned and shops looted. While civilians were attempting to put out a fire several bombs exploded in the burning house. The women and children fled from the village in panic.

The Roman Catholic bishop at Galway has received a death threat if any effort is made to interfere with the soldiers and police in that district, according to a dispatch from Dublin. The telegram added that the bishop had notified Sir Hamar Greenwood, chief secretary for Ireland, that he would be held responsible if any attempt was made on his (the prelate's) life.

SLAIN BRITISH OFFICERS BURIED

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

London, Nov. 26.—Impressive military honors were paid today to nine British army officers slain in Dublin last Sunday, whose bodies were brought here for burial. The bodies were brought from Ireland on a destroyer and arrived in London shortly before 10 o'clock. The chief mourner at the funeral ceremonies was Sir Hamar Greenwood, chief secretary for Ireland. King George was represented.

Large crowds, respectfully silent and bareheaded, lined the streets as the flag draped coffins were borne from the railway station on gun carriages. The band from the Guards played a funeral march and the coffins were escorted by detachments from all branches of the service and details from the black and tan police and the royal Irish constabulary.

Ceremonies for six of the slain officers were held at Westminster Abbey and services for three others, who were Roman Catholics, were conducted in Westminster Cathedral.

SOVIET MOVES WORRY ALLIES

New League Army May be Called on to Oust Reds From Vilna—French to Trade With Russia, Leaving U. S. Alone Holding Aloof.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Paris, Nov. 26.—Momentous developments of both warlike and peaceful nature, all involving soviet Russia, have taken place in the last twenty-four hours.

It is reported from a reliable source that bolshevik forces have occupied Vilna, the Lithuanian city which was recently seized by Polish detachments under General Zelinski. Other strong detachments of soviet soldiers are massed east of Vilna.

(Note—Official announcement was made in the course of the league of nations assembly meeting at Geneva that an international league of nations army was to be created and would be sent to Vilna to occupy the city pending a plebiscite to determine its future nationality.)

For the second time reports have been received from Riga that the soviet Russian delegation has broken off peace negotiations with the Poles. This second report was contained in an Exchange Telegraph dispatch which intimated that Russia might be preparing for a renewal of hostilities.

The way is now open for French traders to enter into commercial relations with soviet Russia, although France is still determined not to grant formal recognition of the Moscow government.

Announcement to this effect, which was made to the foreign committee of the chamber of deputies, created a sensation. It was stated on behalf of the French government that French individuals would be allowed to trade with Russia on their own responsibility. Premier Legerne of France opposes the Russian blockade and it is possible that France and Great Britain may jointly announce its abolition.

With France, Great Britain and Italy trading with Russia, the United States would be the only great western power holding aloof from all intercourse with Russia.

France recognizes in General Wrangel a potential anti-bolshevik force. French recognition of the Wrangel regime ceased with Wrangel's defeat in Crimea. Official announcement to this effect was made simultaneously with the statement on trade relations.

Prisoner Dies of Tuberculosis.

Awaiting a pardon which did not come, John Dutcho, companion of Chester D. Cantine, who was executed for the murder of Carl Danziger at his store in Buckingham avenue, Poughkeepsie, on the evening of April 23, 1919, died Tuesday morning in Auburn prison. Supreme Court Justice Joseph F. Morsehauser and District Attorney Raymond D. Aldrich had joined with John P. Ringwood, all of Poughkeepsie, recently in an appeal for a pardon on receipt of the news that the boy who was serving a ten year sentence on a charge of manslaughter in the first degree, was slowly dying from tuberculosis, caused by malnutrition. Although Attorney Ringwood received executive assurance a month ago that the appeal would be considered and the case investigated, nothing was done, and Dutcho, for whom Mrs. Danziger, wife of the murdered man, had arranged clemency at the time of the trial, died in prison. The last request for a pardon was made October 5.

Interlocutory Decree Granted.

An interlocutory decree of divorce has been granted the plaintiff in the action brought by Pauline Kellerhouse against Walter Kellerhouse, by Supreme Court Justice G. D. B. Hasbrouck. The parties were married in Brooklyn on October 27, 1918, and plaintiff charged defendant with committing the statutory acts in the town of Hunter, Greene county, during April, May and June, 1920 and since then with a woman named Mrs. Collins. Brimmer, Confield & Brimmer are the attorneys for the plaintiff.

An Unusual Cabbage.

William French of No. 124 Franklin street this past summer has had a garden on the Boulevard. When he came to harvest his cabbage he found one stalk with thirteen heads of cabbage on it, and another with eighteen heads. ## TROLLEY ROAD POWER TRANSFER

The work of installing the electrical apparatus at the Jansen avenue plant of the Kingston Gas & Electric Company is practically completed, and it is expected that on Sunday the electric company will start supplying electricity to operate the trolley cars of the Kingston Consolidated Railroad Company.

The trolley road will not abandon the power house on the Strand at the present time, but steam will be kept up so that if the electric company is unable to supply the current Sunday the operation of the trolley cars will not be interfered with or delayed.

The electric current to be used in driving the trolley cars will come from High Falls and as told in the Freeman at the time the trolley road made a contract with the electric company to supply its current to operate the cars. It was expected that the power would be supplied earlier in the year, but there was a delay in the shipment of the electrical apparatus necessary.

PIERCE'S DEATH LAID TO TWO

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Philadelphia, Nov. 26.—Circumstances leading up to the slaying of Henry T. Pierce, wealthy manufacturer, were related in the city hall detention quarters today by Marie Phillips, 18, former New York chorus girl, who was arrested at Wheeling, W. Va., with Peter D. Treedley, to whom she referred as "hubby."

"Pierce was killed by two men whose names my hubby (Treedley) told me were Al Smith and 'Jack,'" she said. "We didn't know Jack's other name."

"Neither of us had met Pierce until the night he was killed. We reached our home at 11:45 o'clock Saturday night and in came Smith and Jack very drunk and boisterous. So we decided to go out with them rather than make a fuss in the house. We thought we would shake them at a restaurant, and we walked to Twenty-Third and Market streets. There we first saw Pierce, half drunk, standing near his automobile, tipping his hat to people as they went by."

"Pierce asked my hubby if he wanted a drink. My hubby doesn't drink and said no. But the other two fellows, Smith and Jack said they would have a drink."

"We drove to Pierce's office, leaving Smith and Jack who saw us go in with Pierce."

"This was about 12:30 a. m. Pierce had several more drinks. Then the other two fellows (Smith and Jack) came in staggering drunk and told us to throw up our hands. Pierce was too drunk to obey and Smith hit him on the hand with a black jack. I got scared and ran downstairs and home."

"My hubby ran out as soon as he could. We were getting ready to go to bed when the other two men drove up in Pierce's car. They said they were leaving Philadelphia and we would have to join them as we had been in 'the jam' as well as they and if we wouldn't go with them they would force us to go."

While the police place little credence in the girl's version of the slaying, a search was instituted for the men she described.

The Colon protesters expressed the fear that Panama might become like Haiti.

"There is going to be such an understanding between President Harding and myself that there will never be any thought of friction between Panama and the United States."

Senator Harding played golf this morning.

LEAGUE BIDS FOR FAVOR OF U. S.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Geneva, Nov. 26.—A move to influence the League of Nations towards entrance into the league of nations was revealed here today. The official record of the meetings of the international court committee, held in connection with the league of nations assembly meeting, shows that the acceptance of Elthru Root's plan for an international court of justice and arbitration resulted largely from the hope that this action would bring America's entry into the league.

Mr. Root's plan, which follows the general outline of The Hague Tribunal, was outlined at the recent meeting of international jurists at The Hague. When it was called up for debate before the international court committee, Leon Bourgeois, of France, Dr. Hagerup, of Norway, and others urged its acceptance without amendments. They pointed out that Mr. Root probably would have much influence in the United States as a result of the Republican victory.

The council of the league has voted for the creation of a permanent mandate commission, to be composed of four mandatory and five non-mandatory states.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.
Mexico City, Mexico, Nov. 23.—Prohibitionists, whose cause has taken a fearful slump in Mexico, are to receive the "help of prominent women in Mexico. An anti-alcohol society has been formed by the women here and plans are on foot for the organization of similar societies in various parts of the country.

A few weeks ago it looked as though prohibition had gained a strong foothold in Mexico. Then it was discovered that prohibition did not mix well with Mexican politics. When it was decided to close the cantinas and other drinking places there was approval in "upper circles," where there was conviction that there should be less drinking among the peons. Moralists talked of the disappearance from the land of Teleten, in ancient days, because of the havoc wrought by pulque.

But when the cantinas were ordered to close their doors from Saturday at noon until the following Monday morning each week, the restaurants and hotels were forbidden to sell liquors during the same weekly "dry" period. This brought protest from "upper circles," the members of which rarely or never enter cantinas, but profoundly enjoying their bottle of wine or cognac in more refined surroundings.

The government would not venture to favor the wealthy by modifying the "dry" regulations. It might have meant revolution if the cantinas had been kept closed on weekends and the restaurants and hotels had been permitted to remain "wet."

The "dry" regulations were impartially enforced, as far as anything can be enforced, impartially in Mexico, but the "wet" pressure was so strong that there was a sudden return to the old system, and all drinking places remain open now throughout the week.

FAKING THE FARMER

The Jack Bean Bobs Up In New Guinea.

At frequent intervals in recent years promoters have resorted to extravagant advertising of the merits of the jack bean. One of the latest efforts in this direction that has come to the notice of the U. S. Department of Agriculture is unusually extreme in its praise of this crop: "Mr. Farmer, $3 Invested in American Coffee Beans and Planted on One Acre Will Bring You in Four Months $400."

The American coffee bean is our old friend the jack bean, says the department. Ever so often it is exploited as a wonderful new crop. Long ago it was advertised as "Pearson bean" and "Wonder bean." In 1913 one advertiser called it Wataka, or Giant Pod. Stock bean, claiming it would yield 400 bushels per acre. Last spring it came out as the South American coffee bean, with the information that it would yield 300 to 600 bushels per acre. This fall it appears as the American coffee bean, and the seed is offered at $25 a bushel. The extravagance of this price is offset by the promise that each acre of the bean will yield in four months' time a crop worth $400.

The jack bean is at most a crop of very small value. It will yield a fairly large crop of green herbage, but this is so extremely bitter that it is very difficult to get animals to eat it, either green or as hay. Possibly it may be better as silage. The seed crop varies from 30 to 35 bushels per acre. The beans are not relished by animals, and cattle do not make much gain when forced to eat it, as determined by the work of the Mississippi Agricultural Experiment Station. The bean is to a slight extent used as food by Mexicans and others, but the flavor is very strong and in some cases serious digestive disturbances have been reported. The seeds contain much urease, a substance used in medicine, but a few tons of jack beans supply the world's annual demand for this substance.

All the evidence available indicates that the jack bean is not likely to become of much value to American agriculture. Full information concerning it is contained in the United States Department of Agriculture Circular No. 92, which can be secured free on request of the department at Washington, D. C.

NEW BUS LINE TO SAUGERTIES

Lots and Graham to Operate via Flatbush Road—Line Also Authorized Between Glasco and Saugerties.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Albany, Nov. 23.—(Special).—The public service commission, under an order issued Wednesday, certifies that public convenience and necessity require operation jointly by George A. Lots and William Graham of an auto bus route starting from Kingston Hotel and over certain Kingston streets via the Flatbush road highway to Main and Partition streets in Saugerties. The certificate is issued subject to the terms of the consents by Kingston and Saugerties. No passengers are to be transported from point to point in Kingston and the certificate is subject to operating fare schedules covered by subsequent orders of the commission and cannot be assigned or leased without the consent of the commission.

Frank Ferrara was also granted a certificate for operating from Saugerties post office to Glasco over the Flatbush road under the terms of the Saugerties consent and subject to similar conditions imposed by the commission on Lots and Graham. The Kingston-Saugerties route is 12 miles long. There are two lines operating on a paralleling road, the Kings highway, between Kingston and Saugerties. Edward G. Klemm and Peter Klais, operating on the Kings highway, did not object to one line on the Flatbush road, also operating partly in the Kings highway, but did object to two on the ground that the Kingston-Saugerties traffic is not heavy enough to justify more competing lines.

Commissioner George R. Van Name in a memorandum with the order, says there are several settlements between Kingston and Glasco on the Flatbush road which are not reached by railroads, and they are entitled to transportation. A fair settlement of a perplexing situation, he says, seems to be to grant Lots and Graham a certificate for operation between Kingston and Saugerties on the Flatbush road and Ferrara a certificate for operation between Saugerties and Glasco.

This Curfew Has a History.

Several of the curfew bells in England are kept ringing because of some old legend or custom. That at Chertsey, in Surrey, for instance, which had been rung regularly for centuries until stopped temporarily during the great war, is the one made famous by the legend which relates how Blanche Heriot, to save the life of her lover, condemned to die at sundown, climbed the curfew tower and held the clapper of the great bell, declaring that "curfew shall not ring tonight."

WILLIAMS ON CANAL TERMINALS

In addressing waterway advocates relative to the facilities provided shippers on the barge canal, State Engineer Frank M. Williams described the work accomplished on the public terminal system, and said:

"Transportation by rail or water, consists of two distinct parts—the actual movement of commodities and the transfer cost of the articles transported. In other words, it consists, not alone, of the actual carriage of freight but in the handling of it at terminal points as well. It, therefore, is just as necessary that there should be frequent, convenient, well established, thoroughly equipped and wisely managed freight stations along the barge canal as it is that the railroads should have similar depots. The efficiency of the railroad would be destroyed if it was without terminals and, in days past, the full efficiency of the canal was never reached because it lacked suitable terminals. It, accordingly, seems evident that the barge canal and other waterways will only reach their highest efficiency by equalling or exceeding the railroads in the convenience and thoroughness of their terminal facilities.

"Vessels in New York harbor usually carry their own loading facilities but barges plying on the canals cannot have high masted derricks for the reason that the headroom under the bridges is limited. Hence the state has had to install unloading machinery on the wharves and piers it has constructed. These facilities reduce the cost of freight handling by saving in the cost of labor and by increasing the speed in loading and unloading the vessel. This, of course, hastens the turn-around of the barge and hence adds to its earning capacity and increases the tonnage it can carry in a given time.

"The engineering department has been installing the mechanical devices as fast as the freight sheds are completed and as the funds are made available. These devices consist of traveling cranes, derricks, portable conveyors, tiering machines and items for the movement of freight along the wharf, such as trucks, tractors and railroad spurs. There are other devices of various types installed and plans are under way to add highly developed equipment such as the grain elevators which have already been provided for.

"Terminals will do much to restore traffic on the canal, shippers will find that by using the water route they will be saving money and I have no hesitancy in saying that the terminals provided by the state of New York will, when fully completed, do much to cut transportation charges. I have repeatedly urged the adoption of measures looking toward the fulfillment of the broad terminal plan. The item of grain elevators for Oswego and New York harbor has been provided for and it is my belief that affirmative action will sooner or later be given to other items such as terminals for Hudson river cities between Albany and New York and coal handling equipment at Cayuga and Seneca lakes."

GERMAN WAR SONG

Causes Dissension Among Own People Now.

By Telegram to The Freeman.

Leipzig, Nov. 26.—"Deutschland Ueber Alles," the German song which caused Prince Joachim to assault two French officers who did not rise when it was played in the Adlon Hotel, Berlin, and which resulted in an international complication with the French when a company of Reichswehr sang it under the nose of General Nollet, is as unpopular with Germany's radicals as it is with her recent enemies.

In the Cafe Bauer last Friday evening the orchestra suddenly began to play "Deutschland Ueber Alles," says the Leipziger Volkszeitung. "A number of guests who became very indignant went to the orchestra leader and demanded the reason for playing the war song of the pan-Germans and reactionaries."

"It developed that a former major sitting in the cafe had offered the orchestra director 100 marks to play the piece. The leader refused. Whereupon the major doubled his bid. The director would not agree, but the remaining members of the orchestra couldn't resist the prospect of 200 marks and played the major's song. Only one violinist and the director refused to play."

CONDENSED CLASSICS

THE LEGEND OF SLEEPY HOLLOW

By WASHINGTON IRVING

Condensation by Mabel Herbert Urner

Washington Irving was born in New York in 1786 and died at his home, "Sunnymide," on the Hudson in 1858.

Intended for the law, in which he had no interest, Irving turned to literature as a profession, and made a successful career of it. He was one of the first to bring to the public a position of honor and respect to the most important American man of letters.

HERE in a sequestered cove of the Hudson lies the drowsy valley of Sleepy Hollow—once a remote, enchanted region, abounding in haunted spots and twilight superstitions.

The dreamy, visionary Dutch folk, descendants of the early settlers, were given to marvellous beliefs.

The most awesome wrath of this bewitched neighborhood was a headless figure on a powerful black charger, which at midnight rode forth from the church graveyard.

At every country fireside were told blood-curdling stories of the weird and ghoul-like pranks of the Headless Horseman of Sleepy Hollow.

Perhaps the most superstitious soul throughout the valley, in the days just following the Revolution, was the country schoolmaster, Ichabod Crane. Tall, lank, long-limbed, he was a grotesque figure, yet not lacking in conceit.

As was the custom, he led an itinerant life, boarding with the farmers whose children he taught. Since he brought the local gossip and helped with the chores his periodical visitations were welcomed by the housewives.

He also enlivened the long wintry evenings with direful stories of witchcraft. In a snug chimney corner before a crackling wood fire, there was no more pleasurable than these blood-chilling tales.

But for this gruesome enjoyment, how dearly he paid when out alone at night. What menacing shadows beat his path? Every snow-covered bush stood a sheeted specter in his way.

However, it was not only these phantoms of the night that disturbed his peace, for his days were haunted by the most bewitching of all witches—a woman.

In his weekly singing class was Katrina Van Tassel, only child of a substantial farmer. Famous for her beauty and vast expectations, the enraptured Ichabod became her ardent suitor.

Gloatingly he surveyed her father's rich meadow lands, the overflowing barns, and the great sloping-roofed farmhouse filled with treasures of old mahogany, pewter and silver. All these rich possessions made Ichabod covet the poor Katrina.

The most formidable of his many rivals was the roving Brown Van Runt, nicknamed from his herculean frame, Brom Bones.

He was the hero of all the country round about, with his feats of strength and hardihood. A reckless horseman and foremost in all rural sports, he was always ready for a fight on a frolic.

Yet even the old dames, startled out of their wits as he clattered by at midnight, looked upon his wild pranks with more good-will than distrust.

This rivalry had been chosen to lay a siege to the blooming Katrina. And when on a Sunday night his horse was tied to Van Tassel's palings, all other suitors passed in to despair.

Intoxicated, however, in his role of champion suitor, he frequented the Van Tassel's, and on a Sunday night his horse was tied to Van Tassel's palings, all other suitors passed in to despair.

TIMES CHANGING IN CHINA

"Gentlemen" of That Ancient Country Evidently Have Revised Their Opinion About Labor.

A sign of the times from China. At Canton Christian college there are Chinese gentlemen—"gentlemen," says a writer in Asia, "of a class that formerly considered work with the hands degrading"—taking care of and studying a model herd of water-buffaloes. If they were capable of such an emotion the situation would probably surprise the water-buffaloes, for long as water-buffaloes have been a commonplace factor in Chinese agriculture, and their wide horns and clumsy figures almost inevitable in a southern China landscape, they have never before been "studied" in an agricultural school, to say nothing of being studied by gentlemen.

But the Chinese gentlemen of the present, or at any rate some of them, are interested in the future of China, and as that future most necessarily be agricultural, these particular gentlemen are interested in improving the water-buffalo. His temper is probably acceptable enough as it is, for, although cross with strangers, the water-buffalo is gentle with those he knows. A small boy, sitting on his back and sometimes playing a flute, controls him easily, and wherever he goes the creature dragging pole or barrow through the swampy rice fields will probably agree that "water-buffalo" is a proper name for him.—Christian Science Monitor.

One From Steam.

A gas derived from the destructive distillation of straw is being produced on a small scale at the experimental farm of the United States Department of Agriculture at Arlington, Va., says the Journal of Industrial and Engineering Chemistry in a recent article.

This gas has been used for water fuel, for cooking and illuminating purposes, but its commercial value has not yet been determined. The offer of development work of the Bureau of Chemistry is now making a series of tests upon it.

Fifty pounds of straw will produce about 100 cubic feet of gas, and the problem of liquefying or condensing the gas in order to enable it to be used practically as a motor fuel is now in process of solution.

A band of more boys, the leader only seventeen, planned and carried through a mail train robbery which, according to detectives, was the biggest affair of its kind in the history of the country. Bonds and money to the estimated value of $2,500,000 were stolen from the Burlington Fast Mail Train No. 8 at Ouchit Bluffs, Neb., on the night of November 13. The train was bound for Chicago with many millions in currency and bonds for eastern banks. One of the band, according to the confession made to the police, entered the mail car in the center of the train and threw ten sacks of registered mail to the tracks, where it was picked up by other members of the band in an automobile. Five men and one woman have been placed under arrest in connection with the robbery. Two of them, according to the police, have confessed. Much of the loot has been recovered. Fred Pottsbarger, twenty, who is being held, told the police that he burned $200,000 worth of bonds in the kitchen stove. Others arrested are Marie Phillips, H. A. Reed, Orville Phillips and T. A. Daley, in whose home, according to the police, the robbery was planned. Daley's wife is being held pending the outcome of the investigation. Mrs. Daley is under no restraint because of her attempts to shield Daley and H. A. Reed alleged ringleader of the plot. $10 in $10 denomination in bundles of $1,000, enough to fill a regular mail sack, were found in the Daley kitchen coop.

Water in the Sky.

Retieve rain as that water in the atmosphere helps to warm. If the air were entirely dry the temperature would be 30 degrees lower than it is. We should have had work to keep from freezing. Without moisture in the air, there would be no rain, of course. The earth would quickly become a desert; so that, looking back, we would soon starve to death anyway. One thing that rain does for us is to wash the dust out of the air. It makes the streets clean and prevents us with water to drink. All of which are convincing reasons in which we may properly indulge during a spell of what we call bad weather.

On the Falkland Islands.

Who that would not his hair cut in the Falkland Islands seems committed to a long wait in the barber shop; but perhaps the Falkland Islanders are not fancy in this particular, and the one barber may be less busy than might be imagined. The population of the islands consists largely of sheep-breeders, gardeners of about 20,000 sheep, and shepherds, so a class are perhaps poor patrons of the barber, for apparently the Islanders have much need of barbers, of whom there is one to keep the barber company; out of heavy patients, of whom there are none. According to some others, for there are four barbers.

Radium Wrought by Misadventure.

There is in the Fiji Islands a ball which can only be described as the most pathetic in the world. It is made out of the piece of rock on which little children were burned before being eaten. The result produced by the radioactivity on their bodies arising from Charles Darwin's theory: "They have shranked bones, nerves and the power of an ultra-terrestrial animal, and a mass of profusely superfluous to any part of the world." Misadventure it was in the islands that many years back saw the scene where the children killed their victims—London Evening Post.

Prosperity throughout school, Ichabod finished up his only suit of rusty black, and drove red horse—a gift

ARTHUR GRIFFITH, FOUNDER OF SINN FEIN, AND OTHERS ARE ARRESTED

Professor McNeill and a Member of Parliament Among Those Taken in One Phase of Black and Tan's Increased Activity—Arrests Exceed Those of 1916.

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Dublin, Nov. 26.—Arthur Griffith, M. P., founder of the Sinn Fein and acting president of the Irish republic in the absence of Eamonn de Valera in the United States, was arrested today by black and tan police.

Professor McNeill, another prominent Sinn Fein leader, and others were arrested at the same time.

Mr. Griffith charged that police agents had recently sought his life but had failed to frighten him out of his ordinary routine.

"I did not attempt to disappear to save myself from assassination," said the Sinn Fein chief. "I continued to go about my affairs as always, eating at the same place and sleeping in my home every night, where I could have been found by raiders if they sought me. This is no surprise to me. I have been expecting arrest for some time."

Mr. Griffith was arrested in his home and his seizure caused a great sensation. In many quarters he has been regarded as a moderating influence.

The arrest of the acting president of the Irish republic was but one incident in the increased activity of police and soldiers throughout Ireland. Reports of arrests of prominent Sinn Feiners were received hourly from all parts of the country. More Irish people have been "rounded up" by the police since last Sunday than in the raids which followed the Dublin uprising in 1916.

Another of the prominent Sinn Feiners taken in custody was E. Duggan, a Sinn Fein member of the House of Commons from South Meath. Duggan had never taken his seat in the British parliament after his election.

O'DONNELL DIES FROM INJURIES

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Los Angeles, Calif., Nov. 26.—Edie O'Donnell, the racing driver, who was injured yesterday at the Los Angeles Speedway, when Gaston Chevrolet, famous driver, was killed instantly, and Lyle Jolles, a mechanic, was fatally hurt in a collision, died at 7:30 o'clock this morning at the California Hospital here.

The race was won by Roscoe Sears in a Duesenberg. Edward Miller, also in a Duesenberg, was second.

O'Donnell suffered a compound fracture of the skull, a broken arm and internal injuries. Despite these he rallied at times and at one time some hope was held for his recovery.

Red Cross Roll Call Extended.

The present Red Cross roll call will be extended one week, ending on December 2. This decision was reached at headquarters because of the inclement weather which prevented many of the workers from completely covering their territory.

THURSDAY'S GAME SCORELESS TIE

Before a large and enthusiastic crowd of football fans the Kingston High School and Brooklyn Evening High School eleven battled in the muddy slush of the Athletic Field to a scoreless tie on Thursday.

Both teams played a clean game and there were very few attempts at forward passes, because of the slimy condition of the ball and field. Neither side succeeded in completing a single pass.

The Brooklyn boys showed a good brand of football, but could not get any nearer to the Kingston goal than the 20 yard line. Campbell and Dula were the stars of the team.

Needless to say, the local boys fought as hard as ever and were near the goal line a couple of times. Kingston had possession of the ball the greater part of the time. Davenport and Sears were the ground gallopers.

The work of the officials was deserving of much praise, because they had to work without the guidance of the lines and this made it very hard. However, their decisions were fair and were not questioned except by the coach of the Brooklyn team, who spoiled the chances of his team getting a touchdown on one occasion. Two or three times he ran out on the field and started an argument which resulted in a penalty for his team.

1st Quarter.

Weyant kicked off to Campbell who was dropped on the 30 yard line. Weidewitz punted to Thompson.

Davenport and Thompson in two tries made a first down. McAndrew tried a forward pass to Thompson which fell short. Sears made a gain of 20 yards. On the next play Sears fumbled but recovered. Kingston was penalized 5 yards for off-side. Sears and Davenport carried the ball to the 25 yard line. From here, McAndrew tried at a field goal but the ball went just outside the post.

The ball went to Brooklyn.

Runs by Davenport. Sears and McAndrew put the ball on the 47 yard line where the quarter ended.

2nd Quarter.

Davenport made 10 yards. Sears was tackled and dropped the ball which Goebel snatched up and ran for 10 yards being given excellent interference until Davenport got in front of him and dropped him hard.

Dula was thrown by Muller for a loss. Making no gain, Weidewitz punted to McAndrew who dropped on the ball on the 15 yard line.

Kingston tried a trick play, but failed to gain much. Campbell was out for a few minutes after dumping Davenport. He was back in the game again though when his Alma Mater cheered him from the side lines.

Davenport, Sears and Thompson made several good gains, but a forward pass was blocked. Barnman punted to the 20 yard line.

Sears and Davenport made good gains again. McAndrew attempted to kick out, but the kick was blocked and Eckenberg recovered the ball.

3rd Quarter.

Goebel kicked off to Sears, who ran the ball back 10 yards. Davenport made 15 yards. Sears and Davenport made some more good gains. Barnman punted to Weidewitz.

Campbell made 5 yards. Brooklyn lost this 5 yards for being off side. Weidewitz punted to McAndrew, who ran back for 20 yards.

Davenport and Sears made a few good gains. McAndrew tried a forward pass to Muller but Weidewitz, who is a big six footer, snatched it out of Muller's grasp and started out on a race, but McLean spilled him.

Weidewitz punted out to McAndrew and got him on the 15 yard line.

McAndrew tried a trick play, including a double pass to Sears, which made 25 yards for Kingston. Barnman punted to Weidewitz, who was tackled by McLean.

Brooklyn failed to make any gain. Weidewitz punted to Davenport, who was tackled in his tracks.

A poor pass to McAndrew lost some ground for Kingston, but he saved himself by falling on the ball. Barnman punted to Campbell, who was dropped by Weidewitz.

Brooklyn made a few gains but lost the ball to Kingston on down.

Brooklyn was penalized 25 yards because of the coach's interference.

Thompson made 20 yards, but at this point the game ended.

NAVAL STATIONS
VITAL SAYS BEACH

By Telegraph to The Freeman.

Washington, Nov. 26.—So long as our important naval stations are adequately defended against any probable naval attack, no enemy will venture landing in strength on the soil of the United States, according to Major General Lansing H. Beach, chief of engineers in the first section of his annual report to the secretary of war, made public today.

"It is an accepted fact," said General Beach, "that our shores can never be invaded in force, unless our own navy is either destroyed or effectively blockaded within our coast line. The first essential of a successful defense requires as never before that our important naval stations shall be adequately defended against probable naval attack. So long as our great naval bases such as Narragansett Bay, the Chesapeake, Guantanamo Bay, the Panama Canal, and San Francisco are made safe against probable attack and so long as our navy remains intact, no enemy will venture a landing in strength on our shores."

General Beach declared that one of the most important deductions from the world war was the necessity for equipping such bases with an armament fit to cope with any carried on battleships now building or contemplated. He stated that the principles enunciated by the board of engineers in 1926: (1) to provide our harbors with an enemy fleet, and (2) to protect our important cities and naval stations from bombardment from sea, have been proved by the war to be as sound today as when stated.

Loan to Germans Denied. By Telegraph to The Freeman. FATHER, MOTHER AND SISTERS.

TRIED TO FORCE
WIFE ON RIVALFinally Sued for Heavy Damages,
Alleging Alienation of Affections.

Trouton, N. J.—A remarkable love triangle in which the husband insisted that the "man in the case" either marry or give up forever the wife loved by each of them, was revealed in a $100,000 alienation suit filed here by Charles E. Chisholm of Newark, N. J., against William C. Parker, society man of Morristown, N. J.

One of the unusual features of the case, as set forth in the affidavit filed with the suit, was that the three principals held numerous conferences at which they discussed the "best way out" for all three. Chisholm says he discussed the situation with both, eventually giving to Parker this ultimatum: "Take her or leave her. You must do either one or the other or face a suit for alienation." Chisholm affirmed that Parker refused to take Mrs. Chisholm, saying that he must first educate his sons.

"Take Her or Leave Her!"

The plaintiff sets forth that the infatuation of the couple had its inception in the summer of 1919, when the Chisholms and the Parks occupied summer cottages at Culver's Lake, N. J. Chisholm says that he became firmly convinced that Parker really loved Mrs. Chisholm and that, following a conference, Parker promised to see no more of Mrs. Chisholm. Parker broke his promise, and the alienation suit followed.

MERCANTILE GAMES TONIGHT

The Mercantile Bowling League games at the Y for this evening are full of interest and may have a great deal to do with the standing of the leading teams of the league. At present the West Shore team is leading by a narrow margin of a half game over the F. B. Matthews team. Both of these teams meet formidable opponents Friday and the loss of a single game might mean a change in the leading team. The first matches of the evening are between the Millards and the Ulster County National Bank and the Gas and Electric Company versus the Fuller shirt team. The Millard team has been bowling some fine games recently and it is just a toss up as to which of these teams will get the best of the three games.

Fullers and the G. & E. teams both have some fine bowlers on their teams and the rivalry between the two will be intense. Itable and Marchant are both well up among the league bowlers as far as personal averages are concerned and can be expected to give a good account of themselves. The West Shore will meet the Jacobson team in the later matches of the evening and while they have quite an advantage over the shirt men, the latter have not yet hit their stride and may get under way this week. The Jacobsons have three good men on their team but have played in hard luck so far. Without a doubt the greatest rivalry of the season will develop from the last match between the two wholesale grocery concerns, namely the F. B. Matthews Company and the Everett and Treadwell team. Of the two the Matthews team has the most experienced bowlers in the Matthews brothers and Healy. On the other hand the E. & T. team has Scott and Treadwell who are consistent and of no mean ability.

FOOTBALL UPSETS ON THANKSGIVING

By Telegraph to The Freeman.
New York, Nov. 26.—Army and Navy will stage the last big game of a brilliant football season here tomorrow.

The rival service elevens will meet on the Polo Grounds in their twenty-third annual contest. It is estimated that upward of 35,000 people will witness the struggle, which is always a colorful affair.

Little betting on the game has been reported in New York to date but with the arrival of the midshipmen, the cadets and army and navy sympathizers it was expected that wagering would live up with the army's slight favorite.

Navy's squad, headed by Coach Bob Polwell, arrived here last night from Annapolis and will work out on the Polo Grounds today.

The army squad was scheduled to leave West Point early this morning. Coach Daly's team was to run through a signal drill at the Brush Stadium late this afternoon.

Both elevens are in prime condition. Neither has had a hard game for several weeks, but the rival coaches have put their varsity players through stiff drills and scrimmages and when they line up tomorrow each team will have its full strength in the field.

The results of Thanksgiving football games furnished a number of surprises. The scoreless tie played by Pitt and Penn State at Pittsburgh was unexpected and it did but little to clarify the eastern championship situation. If anything, this game strengthened Princeton's position.

Pennsylvania's decisive victory over Cornell was a triumph for Coach Heisman, of the red and blue. Penn has experienced one of the worst seasons in years but by downing the big red eleven from Ithaca she wound up in a blaze of glory.

Washington and Jefferson's great comeback against West Virginia was a feature of turkey day competition. Georgia Tech, by defeating Alabama, clinched the southern championship.

Nebraska's defeat at the hands of Washington State furnished football fans with a good line on the quality of football on the Pacific Coast. Washington State was recently beaten by California, 40 to 0. Nebraska was beaten by Penn State, a claimant on the eastern championship, 20 to 0.

Elling and Chester Schoonmaker were also home from Poughkeepsie for a visit, which added interest as Mr. and Mrs. Grant had not seen their cousins since their return from the world war. The evening was pleasantly passed with victrola music and a social chat.
